In 2009, rap artists Busta Rhymes and Billy Danze from MOP released the song "Undescribable" using a Rich Kidd production. That same year, performing artist K-os released his fourth studio album which included the single "I Wish I Knew Natalie Portman" featuring Nelly Furtado and Saukrates produced by Rich Kidd. We On Some Rich Kidd Shit Vol. 3 was released in July 2009, featuring "The Search" a song featuring Drake and Saukrates

In 2010 Rich Kidd performed at Canadian Hip Hop festival Manifesto, and received production credits on Shad's Juno award-winning album TSOL with the song "Listen". He received a nomination for Producer of the Year at the 2010 Stylus awards and returned the following year to five nominations including an award for Artist Mixtape of the Year.

In 2011, Kendrick Lamar stated in an interview that Rich Kidd is a Canadian artist he would like to work with. The two have unreleased material that was recorded before Kendrick started working on Good Kid, M.A.A.D. City. Jay-Z's engineer, Young Guru, has said that Rich Kidd is one of his favorite producers due to him being exposed to his production on the unreleased Jay Electronica album: "Act II"

In 2012, Rich Kidd released an instrumental mixtape Kiddstrumentals and his first studio album The Closers along with Vancouver MC SonReal which landed him a Juno Nomination for Rap Recording of the Year and another nomination for Hip Hop Video of the Year for the song "Hometown".

In April 2013, Rich Kidd released his most complete solo full length project In My Opinion which features singles "SYKE", "Can I Get A [Bom Bom]", and "I'd Be Lying". The album was nominated for a Juno Award in 2014. In March 2013, the CBC named Rich Kidd "your favourite Canadian rapper's favourite rapper" in their top 25 list.

In 2015, Rich Kidd along with rappers Adam Bomb and Tona were nominated for and won the Juno Award for Best Rap Recording beating out Drake protege P. Reign. This same year they won the Sirius XM Indie award for Best Hip Hop/Rap Group.

Awards [\[edit \]](#)

- Juno Awards 2011 – Rap Recording of the Year (Shad's TSOL produced by Rich Kidd)
- Stylus Awards 2011 – Artist Mixtape of the Year Award for We On Some Rich Kidd Shit Volume 4: The Boiling Point
- Toronto Independent Music Awards 2010 – Best Live Urban Award
- Juno Awards 2015 – Rap Recording of the Year for The Legends League Presents: Naturally Born Strangers
- Sirius XM Indie Awards 2015 - RAP/HIP-HOP ARTIST OR GROUP OF THE YEAR for Naturally Born Strangers (Legends League)

Jamal Abdulraheem — formerly known as Twin Gambino, currently known as BIG TWINS — is an emcee and a member of the groups Infamous Mobb (IM3) and Mobb Deep. Friends since childhood, the Infamous Mobb and Mobb Deep members all grew up in Queensbridge housing projects in Long Island City, New York. In 1994, Big Twins made his signature raspy voice be known on a few freestyles with Infamous Mobb, featured on Mobb Deep's Demo Cuts mixtape. The following year, in 1995, Mobb Deep went on to celebrate the commercial success of their second studio album The Infamous, debuting at number 15 on the US Billboard 200 and number 3 on the Top R&B/Hip Hop Albums charts, featuring the street anthem "Shook Ones, Part II." Since 1994, Big Twins has performed across stages in the U.S., Europe and around the world with Infamous Mobb and Mobb Deep. Big Twins next appeared rapping on Big Noyd's debut album Episodes of a Hustla and Mobb Deep's following 1996 album Hell on Earth. Big Twins appeared on Mobb Deep's subsequent albums, Murda Muzik and Infamy, as well as many mixtapes.

In 1999, Infamous Mobb entered into a recording deal with Virgin Records, and performed at major venues during the Anger Management Tour in 2000. Big Twins appeared on Nas' QB Finest compilation album, as well as DJ Muggs's first Soul Assassins album. The Infamous Mobb debut album Special Edition was released in 2002, and features extensive production by The Alchemist. The album was released on Infamous Mobb's own IM3 label and distributed by Landspeed Records. In 2004, Infamous Mobb released Blood Thicker Than Water Vol. 1 on the IM3 label and distributed by Monopolee Records.

In 2019, Big Twins collaborated with J-Hood to release the Infamous in the Hood album, and also appeared on J-Hood's Pesci album. Big Twins recently released a new album titled Queensbridge in 2020, entirely produced by Dirty Diggs, featuring guest vocalists Infamous Mobb, Willie the Kid, Planet Asia and more. Infamous Chefs is a global hip culinary organization established in 2016 by Big Twins and Blu Cheez. Together, they offer hosting, catering and private event services. Big Twins recently appeared on Viceland's food travel show Fuck, That's Delicious, starring Action Bronson.

At first mention, most minds may conjure up images of three borders connecting. On the surface, this conclusion would be correct. However, if you were to look a little deeper you will find something much more intriguing. The lyrical manifestation of the balance between mind, body and spirit has been presented to us in the form of Tristate a.k.a. Metal Palms. A three-dimensional emcee with the wisdom of a prophet, the fearlessness of a gladiator and the confidence of a celestial servant.

Tristate uses husky toned vibrato, clever punch lines and charismatic delivery to triangulate your position while striking you with his lyrical weaponry. As most emcees seek to tow the line, Tristate’s mission is to set the standard and then exceed it. Born in Los Angeles, CA, Tristate has been spittin rhymes professionally since 1992. His powerful message has earned him a tremendous amount of respect among his peers. He’s worked with the likes of Ne-Yo, King T, X Clan, Ras Kass, Alchemist, The Alkaholiks, Kurupt, Busta Rhymes and many others.

Which speaks volumes about his abilities as an emcee. Tristate is one third of the super human Alchemist produced group Durag Dynasty. Alchemist gave him the certified stamp of approval saying “Tristate is a professional word wizard with extreme technicalities for patterns.” He has blessed tracks by some of Hip Hop’s most talented producers such as, DJ Khalil (Self-Scientific, Dr. Dre, Drake, Jay Z, Raekwon, G-UNIT and the Game), Thayod Ausar (Xzibit and Lloyd Banks), Soul Nana of The System Music Productions (The Cheetah Girls, Don Yute, EA Sports and MTV’s “Yo Mama”), Sa Ra Creative Partners for Good Music (Kanye West, Bilal, Black Eyed Peas and Pharoahe Monch), Evidence, OhNo, Madlib and of course The Alchemist (Durag Dynasty).

A true enemy of the current state of Hip Hop, Tristate feels compelled to offer an alternative to the all too often mundane choices. His versatility has been documented through his work with the previously mentioned artists. Further establishing his credentials is his membership in the G.C.M. (Gold Chain Military) / General Monks and Durag Dynasty. He has set the underground scene on fire with co-members Planet Asia, Ben Buford, Killa Kali, Sav Killz, Montage One and Turbin. His latest project titled “3 Dimensional Prescriptions” produced entirely by OhNo has already garnished a few albums of the year nods from some of the cultures most respected figures. More than your run of the mill studio rapper, TriState has shared the stage with the talents of Styles P of the Lox, X-Clan, Wu Tang Clan, Heltah Skeltah, Hieroglyphics, Dilated People’s, Pharoahe Monch and a host of others. A tri- lateral, tri- dimensional explosion is coming your way through Tristate
